The Newberry Consortium in American Indian and Indigenous Studies (NCAIS) Faculty Long-Term Fellowship

The Newberry Library is now accepting fellowship applications for the 2023-24 academic year!

Newberry Library Fellowships provide support to researchers who wish to use our collection. We promise you intriguing and often rare materials; a lively, interdisciplinary community of researchers; individual consultations on your research with staff curators, librarians, and other scholars; and an array of both scholarly and public programs.

The NCAIS Faculty Long-Term Fellowship is intended to support faculty members at institutions participating in the consortium, with preference given to scholars at an early stage in their career. Fellows must work on a project in American Indian Studies that requires research in the Newberry’s collections and be available to NCAIS Graduate Student Fellow for consultation.

For more information, including a comprehensive list of long- and short-term fellowships opportunities, eligibility requirements, and application guidelines, please visit our website at www.newberry.org/fellowships.

Long-Term Deadline: November 1, 2022

Please circulate this announcement amongst colleagues, students, etc.
